

D500 Samsung Data Cable Installation Instructions

1. If you have installed anything unsuccessfully, please uninstall everything installed;
 2. Insert the driver CD in to CD Rom, WITHOUT connecting the cable or phone,
 3. The CD won't normally start automatically, please go into folder PC Studio2.20/USBDriver,
 4. If your phone is CDMA (most phones aren't), go into 'Samsung CDMA USB Driver' folder, click 'setup', and the driver will be installed pretty much automatically;
 5. If you phone is NOT CDMA, go into folder 'Samsung Mobile USB Driver', click 'setup', and the driver will be installed pretty much automatically, and the cable will be installed as a 'modem',
 6. AFTER USB driver is installed, install PC Studio by clicking 'setup' in folder PC Studio2.20, again it will be installed pretty much automatically;
 7. after that, please right click 'modem'-->properties in Control Panel/System/Hardware/ Device Manager, and find the COM value of the modem (e.g. 4);
 8. Launch the Samsung PC Studio, in 'settings', there is a interface for you to set the same COM value (e.g. 4) you just found, and it should work from then on...
 9. The other possible reason for not connecting is that your phone's settings stopping the phone from connecting with data cable, e.g., you may have to go into the connectivity menu in the phone and change it from the memory card to the data cable.
 10. To install Image Editor is optional--it helps you edit photos but has nothing to do with the operations of the data cable;
 11. Please note, this cable does not have IC so when plugged in USB by itself, there will be NO 'Found New Hardware' Window turning up, unless you plug in with your phone which is only recommended AFTER driver and software installed OK.
